

JUNIORS OF ALL FACULTIES JOIN IN BIG FORMAL

Prom Once Again Sees Union Filled
With Gay Couples

DECORATIONS

Nearly Four Hundred Present
—Class of '28 Celebrate Annual Function Last Night

A glorified ballroom and a rejuvenated Union marked the opening function of the winter season at McGill last night. The Junior Prom, the first big event of the year was held in an atmosphere of revelry and joy-making, in surroundings resplendent with marks of the arduous toll of an artistic committee. Beyond a doubt, the decorations were the most ambitious thus far attempted, and the effect was a complete transformation of the sedate Union to the frolicsome appearance consistent with the spirit of such a convivial occasion.

The elements themselves seemed to take part in the gaiety of the party, when early in the evening dainty scintillating snow-flakes began to fall, and formed a fit and pleasant background for the quiet prologue necessary after the thrillingly exciting evening.

The sitting-out rooms were particularly well decorated with palms strewn here and there, giving each chair and sofa that necessary air of seclusion, and with a subdued lighting arrangement which added an effective glow to the picturesque scene.

Delightfully artistic panels, a study of the moon which proved to be a revelation in design, streamers conspicuously placed, class banners in effective positions, a huge cluster of balloons suspended over the centre of the centre of the floor, all these added to the festive appearance of the ballroom. At a set time in the evening, the huge bunch of balloons was allowed to fall to the floor, and the gay throng had a balloon battle during the ensuing minutes. The musicians' stand was prettily decorated and disguised with palms and a fanciful background.

The music was judged to be supreme in pep, syncopation, and tuneful melody, and the catering was of the best. The supper was the occasion for a get-together of all the participants in the dance, and when the party finally divided in the small hours of the morning, those present had no difficulty in calling it a fit function for the season's "opener".

The following are the names of those who attended:

McGill Band To Play At Loyola Stadium Today

The McGill University Band is to provide the music at the Intermediate Intercollegiate play off between Loyola and Royal Military College this afternoon. An invitation to this effect was received during the week by Bandmaster Casey and it was officially accepted at a full rehearsal of the local musicians Thursday afternoon. Loyola authorities are providing special busses to carry the band to and from their new football stadium so that the players will be in fine fettle when they step out before the west end crowd. This will mark the first appearance of the McGill University Band at a football classic in which the McGill team are not taking part.

NEW ARRANGEMENT FOR EXAMINATIONS

Dept. of Public Instruction to Set Matriculation Papers

McGILL ON BOARD

Dr. J. A. Nicholson, Registrar,
Issues Official
Statement

The attitude of McGill University towards the new arrangements for conducting the High School Leaving examination is revealed in an official statement issued by the Registrar yesterday. These arrangements provide that, in future, the School Leaving examination is to be set by the Department of Public Instruction instead of by a Board composed of representatives of the Department and McGill.

It is further announced that, if the examiners appointed by the Department have the confidence of the University, their examinations for matriculation candidates will be used as well, so that under proper conditions, there will be only one set of examination papers, and one set of examiners.

The official statement issued by Dr. J. A. Nicholson, Registrar of the University, is as follows:—

"At the May meeting of the Protestant Committee of the Council of Public Instruction it was decided that in future the High School Leaving examination should be conducted by the Department of Public Instruction as in the case in the other provinces of the Dominion, instead of by a Board which was composed of representatives of the Department and of the two English Universities in the province. This Board appointed the examiners, who in the majority of cases were on the McGill staff, and the Registrar of the University made the necessary arrangements for and conducted the examination as secretary of the board aforementioned. The arrangement, being such as it was, led some to suppose that the University was the predominating factor in this connection and that the examination was more of the university type than should be the case. This, however, was not so, as the representatives of the Department had full opportunity to determine the character of the papers and to finally decide on the results as members of the Revising Committee.

"However, in order to avoid any suspicion of University domination it was decided to have the examination wholly conducted by the Department as already stated. The certificates will also henceforth be issued by the Department.

"The question of the attitude of McGill University toward the Leaving certificates that will be issued in future has had therefore to be considered and in view of the fact that similar certificates from other provinces are accepted pro tanto it has been naturally decided to extend the same consideration to the certificates which will be

SECOND NATIONAL CONFERENCE

Dr. Best to Discuss "Education—
For What?"

The second meeting of the preparatory series which is to take place Wednesday will be led by Dr. E. M. Best. His subject will be "Education—For What?"

The first meeting held last Tuesday was addressed by Dr. Richard Roberts.

SAYS SOLUTION TO PHENOMENA ABOUT REACHED

Dr. D. A. Keys Spoke Before McGill
Physical Society

AURORA BOREALIS

Claims Artificial Production of Spectral Green Line
Possible

"The Aurora Borealis" was the topic of a lecture delivered last night in the Macdonald Physics Building by Dr. D. A. Keys F. R. S. C. He dealt with the production in the laboratory of a certain green spectrum line which is found to occur in the Northern Lights or in the light from the night sky.

Dr. Keys first described experiments to produce auroral effects artificially by means of a magnetized sphere in an electrical discharge and showed photographs of the familiar steam-like effect associated with the phenomenon.

For a long time scientists have been interested in unravelling the mysteries which surround the Aurora and in this task the spectroscopic has proved to be the most effective. With this apparatus distant source of light such as the sun and the star, may be analysed with regards to their constitution. Many terrestrial sources have been examined to see whether any of them show this particular green line of the Aurora.

Different workers have produced what they thought was the green line, Vagstad in particular claiming that he had obtained it by bombarding solid nitrogen with cathode rays. However this contention is open to doubt, since later and more refined measurements fail to show a spectral line at the proper place.

During the past summer, Dr. Keys who is a professor of physics at McGill, carried on experiments at the Nela Park Research Laboratory at Cleveland. Here he produced and photographed this green line in a mixture of oxygen and the rare gas Argon. The green line is believed to be due to oxygen, the argon merely stimulating its emission.

The lecture was profusely illustrated by lantern slides worked out from pictures taken by Dr. Keys.

SCIENCE STUDENTS SPEAKS ON PULP

Paper Manufactured From
Stringy Plant Fibres

J. B. Phillips, a senior chemical student of McGill University, delivered an interesting lecture on the manufacture of paper, from the virgin wood to pulp, at last Thursday's meeting of the Engineering Institute of Canada. The chairman, H. L. Johnson of the same class, explained to the audience of veteran engineers, that the paper to be read was one involving a great deal of labor and study of the manufacture of pulp.

"The Production of Kraft Pulp" was the young speaker's topic. "Kraft" is Swedish for "strong". He was able to hold the interest of his audience for two hours through a highly technical discussion of the processes dealing particularly with the "sulphate" method of cooking the small blocks of wood after the logs have been moistened and their bark removed by agitation within a cylinder whose sides are splined.

Paper of kraft origin is recognized by its brown colour, as with most wrapping papers, and many of the pressed sheets known as fibre. Cellulose is the basis of all paper and fibres, he said. Little stringy fibres, almost microscopic in size, bound together and treated so as to forestall decay and add strength, constitute the chief factor of paper. Cellulose fibres are got from a variety of plants other than trees. Flax, Indian Corn, pineapple leaves, straw, the coconut shell and are samples of sources of these tiny fibres for paper and old rags and waste are not to be overlooked. Absorbent cotton is in reality the ultimate in refined paper, he showed.

That the lecturer understood his subject, was the general opinion expressed in the discussion after the address. Among those who concurred in the opinion was Prof. L. F. Goodwin, of the chair of Chemical Engineering of Queen's University.

Initial Meeting Of Labor Club Held Yesterday

The organization meeting of the Labor Club of McGill University was held yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock in Strathcona Hall. Bunny Bunce was elected president, Keith Pitcairn, vice-president, and B. O. Ylades, secretary of the new club. The club will be unique amongst campus organizations in that women will be encouraged to attend the meetings.

The purpose of the Club was briefly outlined by the newly-elected president. "A meeting place where students interested in studying labor and the problems of labor can gather. The point of view of labor has been obscured by rabid agitation and propaganda on both sides and in the calm atmosphere of the university such problems can be discussed intelligently."

The meetings of the club will be held on every second Wednesday. The date of the next gathering has not been announced. It is probable that Dr. Richard Roberts will deliver an address on that occasion.

Students of both sexes who are interested in the club are urged to attend the meetings.

DATE OF MEETING HAS BEEN CHANGED

D. H. MacVicar, M.A. Will Address Philosophical Soc.

Owing to the Cambridge debate the opening meeting of the Philosophical Society for the year will be held on Monday, the 15th of November at 8.15 p.m. instead of Tuesday, the 16th as previously planned. Because of this change the meeting will take place in the Arts Building as the meeting room of the Union has already been engaged for another function.

Donald H. MacVicar, M.A. is the speaker on the "Philosophy of Bertrand Russell." He is well qualified to give a most interesting address as he has had an excellent training in both philosophy and psychology.

The Hon. Bertrand Russell, the subject of the address, is one of the most interesting figures in the world of contemporary thought. Starting as a mathematician, his interests brought him into the realms of philosophy, psychology, education, and politics. He is not only acquainted with these branches of knowledge, but he is a recognized and respected authority on all. MacVicar intends to devote himself mainly to Russell's philosophy; but the personality of the man is to have a certain amount of attention.

As usual, this is to be an open meeting. All interested are invited to attend.

M.W.S. DISCUSSION GROUP MONDAY

The Rev. R. Hall to Continue
Series of Talks

The Rev. Robert Hall will continue his series of talks and discussion groups on Monday, Nov. 15 at 4 in Strathcona Hall.

The attendance at these groups has been very gratifying so far, and it is hoped that McGill Women Students will continue to avail themselves of this excellent opportunity.

Mr. Hall's subject is "Jesus, the Lord of Life."

U.B.C. PLAYERS HOLD TRYOUT

To Give Several Plays at Christmas

Vancouver, Nov. 12.—(By Exchange Service).—Last Friday afternoon the first try-outs for the Xmas plays were held at U. B. C. Would-be saints, Scotchmen, negroes and society matrons shivered in the wings as they awaited their turn. The new members showed great pulse and confidence, and many have been kept in the running for the final tryouts next week. These members, whose names were not posted, have been informed that their acting has been kept in mind, and that when the parts are finally assigned, they will probably be given minor roles which, small as they be, will insure a permanent membership in the club. Understudy parts for the Xmas plays will not count for a permanent membership.

NEW BUILDING OPENED

Miami, Fla., Nov. 12.—(By Exchange Service).—The new University of Miami will be opened soon despite the recent Florida storm. One building is completed and will be used by the 700 students now registered. The school is endowed for $15,000,000.

CAMBRIDGE WILL OPPOSE MCGILL IN BIG DEBATE

Debate In Moyse Hall To Be Important Event

NEXT TUESDAY

McGill Strongly Represented
Against Invading Team
From Cambridge

Lt. Col. G. S. Stairs, K.C., D.S.O., has been chosen by the authorities in charge of the Cambridge-McGill debate next Tuesday as the chairman for this function in Moyse Hall. He will call the meeting to order at 8.15 o'clock next Tuesday evening, and will announce the subject under debate to be "Resolved, that this House deprecates the growing tendency of the Government to invade the rights of individuals." The visiting Cambridge will support the negative of this subject, while McGill will uphold the affirmative.

The judges have also been chosen. It was announced at the University Thursday. Mr. J. Murray Gibson, B.A. Aberdeen and Oxford, of the Canadian Pacific Railway and the Canadian Authors' Association, Prof. Edouard Montpetit, D.Sc. Laval University and Paris, of the staff of the University of Montreal, and C. H. Cahan, K.C. M.P., of Dalhousie are those who will be in charge of the judging. From all indications, therefore, it would seem that from every standpoint the debate should be a success.

This international affair promises to have great value in bringing both Canadian and British minds to bear on the same questions, and in bringing about a greater sympathy between our own Universities and the universities of the Mother Country.

Cambridge will be represented by A. L. Hutchison, W. G. Fordham, and H. G. Herklots. Mr. Hutchison was educated at Gresham's School, Holt, and at Christ's College. He has long been prominent in college activities, being elected vice-president of the Union Society and president of the debating Society at Cambridge.

Mr. Fordham is equally well known. He was educated at St. George's School Harpenden, and at Magdalen College. He is president of the Magdalen Law Society, and a life member of the Union Society. He is very popular in English student circles as a speaker on political platforms.

Mr. Herklots was born in India in 1903, and received his early education at Trent College, Derbyshire. He is a Bachelor of Arts, having taken second class honors in History and Theology. He is an editor and an author of some note, being at present

ARRANGEMENTS MADE FOR DENTAL DANCE

Large Turnout Expected by Committee

The Assembly Hall of the New Medical Building will be the scene of the Annual Dental Thrift Dance given by the Dental Undergraduates on December Friday 3rd. It was decided to charge two dollars admission for Undergraduates and four dollars for graduates. The Committee considered this increase reasonable as considerable improvements are to be made this year, such as an augmented orchestra, a more elaborate sit-down supper than those given previously, and more extensive and elaborate decorations than before.

For the sake of creating a stimulus and to extort new ideas, the committee are offering a prize to any Dental Undergraduate who shows the most originality in designing a combined Program and Ticket. A reward will also be given to the one who produces the best original ideas for decorations.

Tenders are asked for an orchestra and may be made to any member of the committee. Dr. Walsh Chairman of the Dental Graduate Committee stated that a large turnout of graduates than heretofore was expected. Those graduates with whom he has communicated were quite enthusiastic and eager to meet the students in an environment which they still fondly recall.

Members of the Committee present were Dr. A. L. Walsh, Dr. I. K. Lowery, W. H. Walker and L. Stanton.

McGill Mandolin Club To Play At Palace Theatre

The McGill Mandolin Club held another practice yesterday in the Union Cafeteria at 5 in preparation for their engagement at the Palace Theatre. This will take place during the week of November 21. Such pieces as "Cherie", "The Blue Room", and others were played and to all appearances seem to have made great advances. The music rendered was of the finest type.

As was announced, the Club itself is in for a big year. The members are working hard in order to produce an excellent week at the theatre. Aside from the playing, several skits and other attractions will make up the bill. The next practice will probably be held on Tuesday at 11 p.m., after the regular performance at the Palace.

EUROPEAN CENTRES OF ART IS SUBJECT

P. F. McCullough Will Address Theological Students

The regular meeting of the philosophical and literary society of the Presbyterian College will be held on Tuesday November 16th at 8.15 p.m. in the David Morrice Hall of the college.

Mr. P. F. McCullough B.A., a member of the classics staff of the University will give an illustrated lecture on the various cathedrals and arts centres of France and Belgium. Some time ago he made a bicycle tour of these countries and took photographs of all the principal points of interest, in his lecture he will dwell upon the beauty and symbolism which the 13th century religious arts offer, theological and otherwise, of the century.

A cordial invitation is extended to all students to attend.

THEOLOGS HEARD ADDRESS ON CHINA

Mr. A. J. Brace at Presbyterian
College

Contributed

On Thursday evening the students of the Presbyterian College listened to a most interesting address on China and Chinese problems. The speaker was Mr. A. F. Brace, F.R.G.S., who is in this country on furlough from China, having spent fifteen years teaching and doing mission work in the East. Mr. Brace has made the acquaintance of thousands of Chinese students who are making a study of national language which is being

The Difficulty of so many different languages within the country is now being overcome by the adoption of a national language which is being taught in schools specially established for that purpose—great interest is being shown in education and in most of smaller villages a number of college trained men may be found.

The revolution of fifteen years ago had greatly benefited China, Mr. Brace said. Since that time the country has been steadily progressing and its trade has been increasing and yet the West fails to appreciate the struggle which China is making to recover itself. We need to understand China more, the speaker stressed. Opposition by means of the sword need not be resorted to; it simply could not be done. Only by co-operation and the appreciation of Christian principles of good will to men could war be done away with.

Mr. Brace stated that after fifteen years of teaching in China, the work for him was still fascinating and he was returning to the East in order that he might further share in the advancement of China.

SCARLET KEY NOMINATIONS ARE CLOSED

Twenty Six Men To Fill Nineteen
Vacancies

GROUP "A"

Medicine Elects Four Representatives by Acclamation
Dentistry Nohe

Twenty six men have been nominated to fill nineteen vacancies on the Group 'A' of the Scarlet Key Society, the elections for which are to be held on Tuesday next, November 16 in the various faculty buildings.

Dentistry which is entitled to three representatives has not handed in any nominations yet. Medicine is the only faculty in which an election will not be necessary, the following four representatives, Gordon Townsend, J. Ross Davidson, J. W. McRoberts, and C. A. Miller, being elected by acclamation.

Those nominated in other faculties are, from Science, four to be chosen, Arnold W. Smith, Bruce G. Copping, E. T. Buchanan, A. J. Groleau, and Cecil Brain. From Commerce, four to be chosen, Bruce Spears, Edward Galvin, Herbert Boyd, Fred W. Gross, Chas. Petch, Thomas Arnold, and Gross.

Frederic Tilton. From Law, two to be chosen, Gordon W. Webster, Paul Casey, and Morris Davis. From Arts, four to be chosen, J. P. Diplock, J. Donald Smith, Kenneth Glassford, Weir Davis, Wm. B. Thompson, Edmond Eberts, and John Davidson.

Following is the list of names and their nominees:—

MEDICINE

We the undersigned do hereby nominate Gordon Townsend Third Year Medicine as a member of the Scarlet Key Society.

D. M. Angeline, A. Stewart Allen, W. R. Brewer, Warde B. Allan, Harold G. Beeson, W. J. Baxter, J. R. Davidson, R. M. Burns, C. B. Chisholm, M. M. Ross.

We the undersigned do hereby nominate J. Ross Davidson Third Year Medicine as a member of the Scarlet Key Society.

W. J. Baxter, A. Stewart Allen, Warde B. Allan, C. A. Miller, N. W. McLellan, E. M. Maclean, J. P. McInerney, D. A. MacLennan, J. W. McRoberts, R. H. King.

We the undersigned hereby nominate J. W. McRoberts, Medicine '29 for membership in the Scarlet Key Society.

W. R. Brewer, J. S. L. Browne, Maxwell O. Phelps, W. D. Rankin, W. G. Terwilliger, H. A. McDonald, H. E. (Continued on page four)

LECTURE ON GREEK DRAMA DELIVERED

Professor Woodhead Spoke
Before Y.M.C.A. Group

In a lecture given Thursday night at the Y.M.C.A., Professor Woodhead presented the feasibility of presenting Greek Drama today, and laid emphasis upon the great influence exerted on the present drama by the old Greek masters.

Of the four best tragic dramatists, three are Greek: Aeschylus, Sophocles, and Euripides. Of these, Aeschylus was the greatest artist. Euripides, the poet of the decadence of the Athenian Empire, was a romanticist and hence the real ancestor of modern drama.

The meetings were presided over by H. Burly chairman of the "Y" lecture committee.

COUGH DROPS DON'T HELP SAYS QUEEN'S

In the opinion of the cough drop companies the Varsity-Queen's game is going to be one at which the spectators will yell themselves hoarse. At any rate one cough drop concern has applied to the Athletic Board of Control for permission to distribute their wares in the stadium at that time. The application was considered at a meeting of the Board and, unfortunately for the cough drop company the decision was that the football game could not be turned into a country fair.

At the Games

AMONG every large gathering at athletic contests can be found the cynic who scoffs at the modern world for its enthusiasm over the physical prowess of a very small proportion of its number. He is apt to compare the traditional sport-loving man of a few centuries ago with the sport-watching "fan" of today, and unhesitatingly to give the palm for manly virtues to his long dead ancestors.

Incensed at this unfounded criticism, the greatest Liberal newspaper in the Old Country, the Manchester Guardian, has come out strongly in defence of the man of today who enjoys an afternoon at a good football game. The paper recognizes that it is impossible under normal conditions for every man to be an athlete, and sees nothing wrong in a desire to watch highly trained young men accomplish feats which are beyond the power and strength of most. That is no evidence that modern spirit is degenerating; on the contrary, it shows that improvement is taking place in the ideas of amusement of the masses.

"To watch an offender at the stake or on the gallows for centuries a popular pastime. Modern spirit is civilization's substitute for barbarous pleasures," and the Guardian goes on to admit that "it need not, and should not, be idealized, or gain any crude monopoly of attention beyond its rightful place in life."

Not everyone can play football, but surely it does everyone good to drink in the fresh air, and get second hand the thrill of a hard, clean contest of manly strength and brains. At any rate, as the Guardian points out, the much criticized football crowd only gives two hours a week to its hobby.

McGill's chances of staying in the Intercollegiate Rugby race are far from remote, with Queens by no means uncertain of victory over Toronto today. Our team has been working faithfully in the hope that it will be given another opportunity to take the title, and football interest in McGill will centre in the Richardson Stadium at Kingston this afternoon. All this post-seasonal excitement about games will provide the critic with fresh material for attacks upon modern sporting conditions, where so many watch, and so few play. But he cannot with justice point to the examples of our forefathers, for, in the last words of the Guardian's editorial, "the lowest supporter of a local team is something of a moral example to the mediaeval connoisseurs of pleasure. A little ecstasy over goals is surely preferable to glee over the gibbeted felon and the burning witch. If to stand and stare be a disease, then it is endemic, not epidemic, and its symptoms are far less vicious than of old."

English

THERE is a standard joke connected with the language that many people from the other side of the Atlantic use upon their arrival in America. They say that they understand this tongue, and that, and American. In other words, they jocularly admit that the English spoken on this continent differs considerably from that in Great Britain. There is no suggestion or hint of a "Canadian" speech, but it is obvious that we on this side of the border are bound to be conservative disciples of all that the inhabitants of the United States may decide to do in the way of renovating the common tongue, and what applies to them is, or shortly will be, applicable in this country.

The speech of America is diverging from that of the Old Country. The chief difference, slang, may not be permanent, but there seems to be no doubt that a new language is being evolved. The proof is evident to anyone who troubles to glance through a few files of American college papers, and then compare the diction with that of the English University publications. In both cases, the editing is done by similar types of undergraduate, though the Englishman is often the better educated. On both sides the men at the desks of the newspapers and magazines are of the classes that will be responsible for their country's future, and the language they employ will be in great measure the language of the average educated man.

In the British journals, a high standard of what the Americans still admit is the best English is maintained, and the only changes to be noted from year to year are those normal variations that are always appearing. The opposite is the case in America. It is rarely that a college newspaper in the States insists upon the correct use of words in its editorials, and only in the best universities do the news columns adhere to a certain standard. Unusual, or slangish, writing is preferred to old fashioned simplicity.

The result is that a very large proportion of American college graduates face the world with a speech that the metropolitan and undergraduate newspapers have helped to form, and which has been little affected by the various English departments. The beauties of our literature will in time be lost to all but the most highly educated Americans, for the words of the classics will be unintelligible.

Unless a strong stand is taken, Canadian college papers will be allowing slang and journalism throughout their columns, and once they have succumbed to the lure of "easy words," they will find it almost impossible to regain their erstwhile purity. And the English language will have lost another defender of unknown strength in Canada.

Petit Parisien

Dear Monsieur McGill Daily—
Bah heck! I cannot leave my dog. He feels so grateful to me when I rescue him last Saturday that every time I leave him he starts to yelp, and then everybody in the building where I board him makes protest and offer to kill my dog. And I cannot find the lady which won the dog!

Well, I have no choice to make but to take him into the Arts building and to lectures. He is so small that I can carry him inside my overcoat, which I do and resolve with much resolve to leave him down in the locker room.

So I tie him up to the door of my locker and make for to go upstairs. I suppose he yell—I do not know because all the other students they make so much noise. But I have just get settled in the classroom when in comes my dog, and parafandis! he is please, I push him under my desk lid and swear at him and he keep still.

Now when ze professeur call out my name I say here sir. And ze dog he give a grunt. And bah gosh, I hear a noise beside me. It is a co-ed! What shall I do?

Well I have dialogue. Here it is.
PROFESSOR. I have received ze paper of Monsieur de Buckette which is very well expressed, and I shall give him A.
ZE DOG. Grunt, grunt, (as if he is please.)

CO-ED. What is that?

PROFESSOR. All ze class should do as well as Monsieur de Buckette.

ZE DOG. More grunt, (as if he is very please.)

ZE CO-ED. What is that—oh—how dare you, Augustine! Don't get familiar with me!

ME. What you mean?

CO-ED. Stop it, stop—

ME. OH. (I get light I am not touching you. (I have see that my dog is wagging his tail because he is pleased. His tail is tapping her). Don't scream but look under here!

CO-ED. Oh!!! (in whisper) Ze little darling. Ze beauty. Ze sweetheart I will kiss him after de lecture.

ME. I wish I was ze dog.

PROFESSOR. Monsieur deBuckette, why you interrupt ze class. You are violating class etiquette.

ZE DOG. G-r-r-r Wow, wow, wow, (he is mad).

I grab ze dog by his mouth, and tell ze professeur I have one bad cold And I sweat for ze rest of ze period.

I suppose I will have more adventures.

Yours avec sincerite,
AUGUSTINE DEBUCKETTE
P. S. I will continue my cereal next Tuesday. I have close down my manufacture for Thanksgiving.

Experience Teaches

There is a chilly voice that warns of winter coming soon;
It speaks to us in evenings long
And each day, later morns.

NOVEMBER! NOVEMBER! to thee we rend our tune;

Wherein the year's thoughts form a throng

'Joyed past from all hearts wrung.
Dull, cold, damp, bleak, rain, sunshine, snow,
Each has its turn of fate.

Beware; the seeming trifled change
Ensnare thee, friend; too late,
Thy slicker then sufficed to turn

The early autumn rain;
But not the rest of these we list
Else, follow a time of pain.

NOVEMBER! NOVEMBER! to thee we rend our tune,
In whom we think no dangers lurk—
Ah! then comes Celtic rune.

—A student just recovered from laryngitis!

An excellent specimen of bull moose with an antler spread of 48 inches was secured recently in the woods of Nova Scotia by James W. Stuber, sportsman-editor of Columbus, Ohio, who headed an expedition into Nova Scotia for the purpose of securing exhibits for the Ohio State Museum. In reporting on his trip at the tourist department of the Canadian Pacific Railway in Montreal, where details of the expedition were arranged, Mr. Stuber stated that, according to guides and old residents in the district where the moose was killed, it was one of the finest specimens taken out in years.

At Local Theatres Next Week

N AT THE PRINCESS

Once again the main subject of conversation on the topic of theatricals in Canada is The Dumbells and their newest show "Joy Bombs". If we did not have this clever organization to rely on at least once a year, the dearth of really first class shows would be felt more keenly than ever. Fortunately for all, "The Dumbells" continue to grow even better as the years go by. (That same speed and virility that has always been a big factor in their earlier entertainments, has never stood them in better stead than right now: for there is a mighty human power that carries it through from scene to scene without a moment's lapse.

"Joy Bombs", the current vehicle of The Dumbells, is a striking example of that "quantity plus quality" production that we hear and read so much about.

All the 'boys' are coming back to renew old friendships and make new ones. This will be their first visit to the Princess and it is said they are coming to establish a new house record for popular priced attractions.

There are many outstanding hits in the show, a few of which are "The pre-war military sketch," one big laugh from start to finish;—"Three for Tea," a sparkling satire in a Tiffany setting;—"The Coster Scene," with its songs and dances, its comedy and tragedy, and its ten thousand pearl buttons gleaming in the lights;—Capt. Plunkett's Orchestra;—"The Stow-away," "The Man Overboard," "The Storm at Sea" and "The Drill for Inspection."

AT THE CAPITOL

Manager Dahn will offer patrons of the Capitol a stage offering next week in conjunction with the regular photoplay feature and lovers of music.

The photoplay attraction will be Rex Ingram's "The Magician" featuring beautiful Alice Terry, with Paul Wegener, international character actor, in the title role.

Rarely has the screen flashed a dramatic thunderbolt like this one: for sensation steps on the heels of sensation in this masterpiece, which has been acclaimed Ingram's greatest screen production.

The story centres around a beautiful girl, played by Miss Terry, in the strange clutches of a mad magician, played by Wegener;—she has already given her heart to the man, a noted doctor as played by Ivan Petrovich, who had saved her life by performing a delicate operation on her spine that startled the surgical world. Love then gives battle to the uncanny powers of evil, but powerless under the spell of the magician she forgets the man she loves and then—

Suffice it to say that there are a thousand thrills and mysteries in this picture, there's a climax you'll never forget after seeing this amazing story of love, mystery and adventure.

This most unusual story was adapted from Somerset Maugham well known novel and was produced in Europe. It was a whole year in the making, and was made on the actual locations as described by the author: The Latin Quarter of Paris; the Grand Boulevard; The Cathedral of Notre Dame; Monte Carlo; the interior of the gambling rooms at the casino; the famous towers of Switzerland and many other places of historical and pictorial beauty being used as backgrounds.

AT LOEW'S.

"Three Bad Men", an inspired screen story of one of the most romantic periods in the history of American empire building, dealing with the opening of the many millions of acres of Indian land to the white man, will be the feature event which will appear Sunday, at Loew's Theatre. Over 15,000 people appear in some of its scenes, depicting the never-to-be-forgotten invasion of the Dakotas. The horses, oxen, dogs, cattle, prairie wagons, and other vehicles, including bicycles, surreys, wheelbarrows, hand wagons, and prairie schooners run into the thousands. The huge sets reach proportions where more figures become meaningless.

The cast includes the noted Farrell MacDonald, Tom Santschi and Frank Campeau in the roles of the "rascally three", who will win the plaudits of the world by their characterization of this strangely assorted trio. George O'Brien and Olive Borden play the pioneer lovers, supported by such well known character actors as Alec Francis, Otis Harlan, Lou Tellegen and Jay Hunt.

Nat Nazarro, an international entertainer of marked ability will be featured on the stage next week. Nazarro is assisted by two clever coloured boys called Buck and Bubbles. They present a most entertaining twenty-five minute act.

Other acts will include the Speak E Z Revue with the Sidell Sisters. Will H. Ward & Company in a humorous skit captioned "At the Stage Door". A charming musical act will be presented by the Bensley Twins. Day & Davis refer to their offering as a curbstone comedy called "Comedians" and Louis Leo, a young man with equilibristic talents will open the show in a ladder balancing act.

AT THE GAYETY

The main aim of the Mutual Burlesque Wheel is to send out to Montreal burlesque shows that are full of fun; pep; vivacity and such as to provide pleasurable entertainment.

The attraction booked for the Gayety Theatre, the local home of Mutual Burlesque for next week, starting Sunday evening and thence twice daily is Harry (Hello Jake) Fields and his "Sugar Babies". The show literally abounds in pep; ginger and is also sprinkled with popular melodies that everyone will be whistling or humming on their way home after seeing the show. It is snappy from beginning to end and everyone is assured of a happy evening's entertainment. Harry (Hello Jake) Fields, is a splendid comedian and he offers a show that can hold its own with the best shows of today. Featured in the cast with Fields is Althea Barnes, who is not only attractive to behold, but is also artistic in her methods of histrionic expression and especially graceful to her patrons. Betty June Lee, Ann Darling, Frank Scannell, Ben Lerner, Charles Schultz and Pat Mulligan all labor harmoniously in putting over one of the most attractive shows of the year. There is also a beauty chorus of twenty exceedingly pretty, graceful, vivacious and youthful peaches, picked to please, who will sing and dance their way into the hearts of young and old alike.

AT THE IMPERIAL

Miss Patricola, "The Scintillating Melodist", will head the bill at the Imperial next week with a series of character songs. Helen Higgins with Hartley and O'Brien and Horace Bentley, will present a divertissement of songs and dances called "Rain-beaux" "Jest for awhile with Clara Barry and Orval Whittle is said to be an assembly of clever songs and bright patter, while the Arnaut Brothers, known as "The Loving Birds" have a burlesque comedy act. Mr. Reed and Miss Lucy indulge in "piano capers", a combination of fun and music and Karl and Erna Gress dance and do acrobatic stunts in "A Painting Surprise". On the screen Evelyn Brent will be seen in "The Flame of the Argentine."

A Vision on the Day

I
It came as a breach in the day's work
Just at the midst of the day,
Only a two-minute silence
But what did that silence say?

II
There is the hall-way standing
A picture before me is thrown,
For the vision comes in my mind's eye,
Of him who once was my own.

III
"I was only a second-rate officer,
But men did what I told them to,
For never an order came through me
That they weren't prepared to do.

They were tall and short, an orderly lot
From every sphere of life,
Game to the core, and then some more
I claim; in that hellish strife.

V
That platoon of mine was a gang divine
And they fought like dogs let loose,
Until one day, Jim passed away
And he entered eternal snooze.

VI
A bullet had found him while saving a friend
And he died with an oath on his throat,
But I'll tell you now, that he's over there
In France, in his private's coat.

"And every night when we spirits roam
Mine for the timbers tall,
You'll see Jimmie there, with his fists clenched tight
Looking for Tommy his Pal.

"And we spirits call with a voice that is loud,
"Say Jim, 'Tom isn't dead',
But he still insists that Tom exists
For he saw the shot hit his head.

IX
"Now I'll tell you son for my time is short,
And I should be on my way,
That the war was fought and won my son,
With the thought of you away.

That this Armistice Day might signify
That the passing was not in vain."

Recognized throughout the West as two of the outstanding authorities on mountain transportation, James and William A. Brewster, president and general manager respectively of the Brewster Transportation Company, visited Canadian Pacific headquarters in Montreal and in an interview for the press predicted great popularity for Banff, Lake Louise and other points in the Rockies. Americans, they stated, were regarding these centres as some of the outstanding holiday resorts in existence.

Here And There

Philadelphia—The silver cup for the best display of poultry at the Sequel-continental Poultry Show was won by the Hon. John S. Martin, Ontario Minister of Agriculture.

A newly constructed line of the Canadian Pacific Railway between Unwin and Lloydminster in the Province of Saskatchewan is now in operation. This line 30.6 miles in length will greatly assist the farmers of the district in marketing their grain.

Ripe plums are now being sent to England, arriving there in primo condition. The Ontario Department of Agriculture reports having made a trial shipment with excellent results, as attested by word from the other side. The plums were picked ripe and fully colored.

Vancouver—The largest shipment of tree seeds ever made within the British Empire was that of 3,200 lbs. of yellow pine seed sent from New Westminster to New Zealand by the Dominion Government seed extract on plant at the former place. A further cargo of 2,500 lbs. of seed is to follow shortly. This seed will be planted on waste lands in New Zealand.

Quebec—The Canadian Pacific Railway has decided to add three hundred rooms to its famous hostelry, the Chateau Frontenac, and to meet the requirements has taken options on a number of properties near the present buildings. Through the construction of the proposed new wing the Chateau Frontenac will probably become the largest hotel in the British Empire, having some 1,200 rooms.

Christmas travel from Canada to the Old Country is expected to be exceedingly heavy this year over the C. P. R. lines and by the Canadian Pacific liners. High wheat prices and good crops are given as the causes for this exodus. The rush will be inaugurated virtually by the sailing of the C.P.R. liner Montroyal on December 7, for which a special train will be run to ship side at Saint John.

EPOCH MARKING RUGBY CONTEST QUEEN'S TODAY

Championship May Be Decided At This Afternoon Fixture

RICHARDSON STADIUM

Both Varsity and Queen's Equally Favored to Win

ONE of the greatest rugby contests in Canadian football history is expected this afternoon when Queen's and University of Toronto battle at the George Richardson Memorial Stadium, Kingston, in a game which will mark an epoch in the Intercollegiate Rugby Football Union, regardless of the outcome. If Varsity wins, the blue and white triumph will give Toronto the college honors for the first time since 1921 and will end the brilliant championship march which Queen's maintained for four years. If Queen's wins, the intercollegiate race will end in a three-cornered tie, necessitating a play-off between the three teams in the Union, a condition which has never arisen previously in the history of the organization. Thus, no matter what the result today, football history will be in the making when the two teams battle.

Varsity will be fighting for a title also held by the blue and white team in 1921. Queen's will be battling to keep a place in the race by forcing a play-off, otherwise they drop to the cellar position. The largest crowd to ever pack the Richardson Stadium—some 8,000 spectators—is expected to witness the conflict. The rooters will be largely Queen's supporters, though Varsity is sending down 1,000 from Toronto, and grads of both institutions will assemble at Kingston from many eastern points. McGill, with a considerable interest in the outcome of today's tussle, will be well represented, a large party leaving Montreal this morning in the hopes of seeing a Queen's triumph, which would allow McGill to slip into the three-cornered play-off. Thus, everything required for a magnificent rugby spectacle is included in the setting.

Chief of all, however, are the two squads, big, speedy machines, both confident of the result and both stirred to fighting pitch through the honors at stake. From the Varsity camp came assurances of a "T" championship after today's game. Varsity remembers that the U. of T. always plays well at Kingston and fresh in the Varsity mind is the story of Toronto's one-sided win over Queen's great championship team of 1922, the last time the "T" downed the tri-color in Kingston.

Queen's, however, is equally optimistic. Predictions from the tri-color camp are just as optimistic as those from Varsity. Queen's was stung by its reverse at the hands of McGill last Saturday. Coach Hughes and his players are in fighting mood to avoid relegation to the cellar. They have been assisted all week by old stars of the team. It has been a reunion week at Queen's. All Queen's best traditions have been revived by the return of many graduates. The upshot is that the tri-color are expected to cap the programme with a dashing battle. McGill is pulling for a Queen's win, so that the red and white may enter a play-off for the title, rather than take second place in the race, which will be McGill's lot if Varsity wins. McGill, too, gives a majority vote in favor of a Queen's triumph over Varsity, though it is plain that opinion is influenced at McGill and that the wish is father to the thought.

Unbiased forecasts of the game make a happy medium between the confident reports broadcast from the two universities. The general consensus of rugby fans is that today's classic should be a terrible struggle with the result wholly in the lap of the dogs victory going to the team which is the more favored by Dame Fortune. Varsity is regarded man-for-man as the stronger combination. Certainly the "T" is a powerful machine and in Sinclair, Trimble, Warren, Snyder, Stollery and Bates has some flashy, as well as sturdy fighters. Queen's—not the same robust type of squad as Varsity—relics, on the brilliance of such players as Batstone, Voss, Britton and Liz Walker to take advantage of opportunities. The tri-color unquestionably are the greatest opportunities in the intercollegiate. No team can afford to let up against them for a minute. They ram home attacks whenever the opposition shows the least signs of weakening and can generally count in the scoring column through any lapse in mechanical football by their adversaries.

HOCKEY PLAYERS

All those who intend to play hockey with the senior team are asked by Coach Shaughnessy to hand their names and other data to the athletic board office in the Union addressed to L. Smith, manager of the team.

The information required is position played, and previous experience.

The first practice on Monday at the Forum, from 6 to 7 will be only for those chosen from the applicants. The names of those selected to play at the first workout will be announced in Monday morning's issue of the Daily.

Varsity squads meet at the George Richardson Stadium, Kingston, this afternoon to decide whether Varsity will hold the Intercollegiate Rugby honors for the next year or whether Queen's can force a three-cornered tie and bring about a play-off between these two teams and McGill for the honors. What slight advantage there is in bulk goes to the speedy Queen's team's which will outweigh Varsity by an average of two pounds, though when the substitutes are left out of the reckoning and weight comparisons are restricted to the first string players alone, Queen's twelve to start the game will only outweigh Varsity by an average of one pound. Queen's edge in weight is on the line from middle wing to middle wing. The Queen's team averages 165 pounds and Varsity 166 pounds though Queen's first string squad averages 170.5 pounds compared with 169.2 pounds for the twelve who are to start the game for Varsity.

DURHAM REPLACES MCKELVEY

Snyder and Stollery May Make
Last Appearance

Kingston, November 12.—"While we expect to win, we are not at all overconfident," was the opinion of the members of the Queen's senior rugby team which meets Varsity at the George Richardson Memorial Stadium tomorrow afternoon. The players are going into the game convinced that they will be able to defeat Varsity and so create a three-cornered tie in the league. There was no scrimmage practice today. The players went through a signal drill, after which instructions were issued for everybody to be in the sleeping quarters early in the evening.

During the week it has been expected that Gilbert McKelvey would start on the half line, but today Coach W. P. Hughes decided that Durham would take his place. Although McKelvey has attended all the practices, the knee which was hurt early in the season is still stiff, which prevents him showing his speed. Carl Voss and Harry Batstone will start and Pee Wee Chantler, Beno Wright and Gilbert McKelvey will be held in reserve.

This evening it was announced that all arrangements had been completed for handling a record crowd. J. S. McDonnell stated that all the reserve seats, with the exception of the 850 new ones which were erected, had been sold and he expected a complete sell-out. It is now an assured fact that there will be Queen's old boys who graduated from the college over fifty years ago at the game. Today a graduate appeared at the ticket office and stated that, although he left in 1872, he was still interested in the game and would be on hand tomorrow. Another 1851 graduate bought tickets. The Queen's rooters have been re-organized during the week and will make their presence felt. Dr. Archie Abernethy and Bill Holcroft two graduates who have held the positions of supreme rooters, have consented to lead the students. This afternoon the majority of the students visited

INTERNATIONAL SOCCER GAME THIS AFTERNOON

Dartmouth Plays McGill at Stadium Today

2.15 P.M.

Americans Have Strong Aggregation Under Coaching of English Professional

The McGill Soccer team will engage in the final game of the season this afternoon at the Stadium when they meet the strong Dartmouth eleven.

The Dartmouth team according to their coach Mr. T. J. Dent is in excellent condition and have been training assiduously in preparation for this international fixture. Dartmouth to date have played six games, they have won two, lost two, and drawn two. It is significant to note that Springfield who defeated McGill by the score of 1-0 were held to a tie by the Dartmouth squad.

Mr. T. J. Dent, coach of the Dartmouth team is an English professional who played with a first division team Aston Villa. Under his able coaching for the last three years Dartmouth has progressed by leaps and bounds and will offer stubborn opposition to the Red and White this afternoon.

The McGill team is in excellent condition and since their last game against the R. M. C. when they won the Intercollegiate Championship, have been in active training under the supervision of coach Hay Pinlay who has led them to three successive championships.

The game will be handled by a renowned referee Mr. H. S. Lyons of Montreal. Mr. W. Ingraham and Mr. C. H. Seaton will act as linesmen.

The teams will line-up as follows: Dartmouth — Stickler, Thompson, Stone, Krogstad, Allis, Makepeace, Marx, Meyercood, Benton, Eastman Woodbridge.

McGill — Amaron, Giovando, McLeod, Kelland, Archdale, Helwig, Watt, Scott, Moffatt, Estall, Gavin. Reserves McKinnon, Brain.

The game will take place at the Stadium. Kick-off 2.15. All McGill players are asked to be on hand at the stadium at 1.30 p.m.

Coupon No 7. will admit students the different toy shops and bought articles which are devised to make a noise. A number of color schemes are going to be worked out by those who will sit in the bleachers. Unless there is a sudden change in the weather, the playing surface will be rather hard. There was a light fall of snow this afternoon, but the authorities are hoping for milder weather tomorrow which would improve the gridiron. The bear mascot which was decorated with red and white paint by McGill students in Montreal last Saturday has been cleaned up and will be in fit shape for the game.

Johnny Evans, Pep Leadley, Bert Alrth. Queen's old boys, are still in the city assisting the players, and Dr. Bill Muirhead will attend the game.

The following official line-up was given out on Friday evening. Flying wing, Britton; halves, Voss, Batstone and Durham; quarter, Baldwin; snap, Skilton; inside wings, Reynolds and Shaw; middle wings, Monahan and Howard; outside wings, Walker and Wright. Subs., Brown, F. Wright, Chantler, Hamilton, Handford, Nagel, Agnew, McKelvey, Sutton, Busserman, Young, McPherson and Metcalfe.

Varsity on Route

Toronto, November 12.—The University of Toronto seniors entrained for Belleville at 1.30 this afternoon, and from Coach McPherson down to the water boy the Blue and White believe that they will win the Intercollegiate Union Championship at Richardson Stadium, Kingston, tomorrow. There was optimism in the squad as they boarded the train, and it is certain that from the drop of the hat the tri-color warriors will discover that they have been in a battle.

The locals are in good condition with all the regulars ready, and while it is expected that the score will be close, there are many who believe that the blue and white will come through.

A special train carrying supporters will leave here tomorrow morning at 8.30 for Kingston, while at 9.30 another, secured by Gurney Stratton, Peter Campbell, and other former U. of T. stars, will start for the Limestone city. The second followers of the blue and white conceded Queen's no chance to win Saturday.

Warren Snyder and Howard Stollery, the line plunging terrors on the U. of T. team, will make their farewell appearance in college football if the Blue and White are victorious. They will, however, have another game to play if the locals are defeated. Snyder and Stollery will line up with the Argonauts in 1927.

MCGILL GRADS WIN GAME FROM C.P.R.

League-leaders Victors in Hard-fought Encounter

(By Natatory Nymph)

Before packed galleries the Grads beat out the C. P. R. A. A. poloists by the close and unimpeachable margin of 3-2. This win upholds the prestige of the Old Boys; in plain language, the Grads are undefeated, having three wins to their credit and no losses to their debit. Close checking, daring passing, and a case of old stock ale were features of a well-contested game. C. C. himself supplying the latter. This was the Grads' "Lucky Day". C. P. R. played their best game of the season and watered an excellent combination of experienced polo players.

With a minute and twenty-five seconds to play, Vernot the old boy sturdily received a penalty of one minute during which time the remaining stalwarts, inspired by supernatural effort kept the C. P. R. forwards off rather the whole team to no score. On reentering the water, Georgie romped the length of the tank, received a pass from C. C. and caged for the final score.

The game started with a rush and dash of speed that indicated a fast and snappy display of the aquatic dexterity. Within a short period of time, the Grads through the efforts of Vickerson scored the first counter.

The railroaders evidently saw red and sunk the first goal. This fact made Jantine lose his title as "goal-proof". Vicious and strenuous play marked the two following periods and again the Grads led off with a score Jimmy Giles doing the trick. The Beatty men saw double red and again tied the score. In the last quarter the heavy swimming Vernot did his "slip". The Grads won and how the crowded galleries shrieked and cheered. Unceasingly the rooters kept their vocal encouragement up until the final whistle blew. The defense of Rev. Forsythe Vernot and Giles and the unrelenting attack of Vickerson, Brooker, Moore, and Brooks kept the Grads at the head of the game and the league. A celebration after the game with Mr. Dawes eulogizing "Black Horse" was held at the rooms of the Grads club (Locker Room).

issued by the Department of this province, and if he examines are of the same calibre as those who have been, doing the work hitherto there need be no hesitation in the matter. Indeed it is expected that many of the examiners will be chosen from the staffs of the universities, as is the case in the other provinces and that the standard will be maintained at the old level.

"If the examiners appointed have the confidence of the University it is proposed to use the examination papers set by the Department for Matriculation candidates as well and to have the answers read by the departmental examiners, so that under proper conditions there will be only one set of examination papers, as at present and one set of examiners. Any other arrangement would be confusing and unsatisfactory.

"It is fully expected that although the universities will have no direct say in connection with the setting or examining of the papers, the Department will have reasonable regard to any representations which they may see fit to make, and that a co-operation may be established which may work out to the satisfaction of all parties concerned."

A British Columbia hen, a white Leghorn, has taken the world record in egg-laying with a total of 348 eggs given in 360 days. The hen was entered by the University of British Columbia in the Dominion Experimental Farm contest extending from Nov. 1st last year, to the same date this year.

Previous egg-laying records were held by New Zealand (342 eggs per year), in 1923, and by Australia (347 eggs) in 1924. Last year the honor of establishing a record for this continent went to a hen in Puyallup, Washington, with 336 eggs laid in the year.

LOYOLA COLLEGE TO PLAY CADETS

R.M.C. Will Start With One
Point Margin

This afternoon at the Loyola Stadium the second game of the intermediate intercollegiate play-off between Royal Military College and Loyola College will take place. Last Wednesday at Kingston the R. M. C. squad managed to secure a one-point lead over the maroon team with the score at 7-6. Coach Montague of the Loyola team was not displeased with the result of the game at Kingston. The game was played on an extremely wet and muddy field, and snow fell throughout the tussle blinding the kicking and catching halfbacks of both squads. The R. M. C. team, being a much heavier one than their opponents, depended largely upon line plunges to gain their yards. On their own ground this afternoon the Loyola team will have greater confidence and greater determination; and now that they are familiar with the cadets' style of play, expect to retrieve the defeat they suffered under the guidance of Coach Montague, the team turned out for light scrimmages on Thursday and yesterday and the players are in the best of condition.

No casualties resulted from Wednesday's game and the team will line up on the field this afternoon intact. If the Loyola team wins the game by a margin of two points they will be entitled to meet the winners of the western section of the Intermediate Intercollegiate Union.

Savard will do the kicking of the maroon squad and Tynan will support him in the backfield as catching half-back. The Cannon-Bannon combination appears to be working well in the practices and the Loyola supporters are putting great faith in these veteran halves. Captain "Moose" Bannon, who was out of the game for a large part of the season due to injuries, is now playing in the best form he has ever shown. The fol-

PROFESSOR DERICK DELIVERS LECTURE

Evolution was Theme of Address at Mechanics' In.

"Evolution is a fact, and is generally accepted by all scientists, but Darwin's theory of the origin of species because of natural selection has been abandoned or rather natural selection is regarded as a directive and not a creative force," said Professor Carrie M. Derrick, of McGill, in an address at the Mechanics' Institute.

All animals were destitute for backbone for millions of years, contended Miss Derrick, these including the annelid forms to which human ancestry could probably be traced. Although one of the latest groups of mammals included monkeys, apes and man, this does not prove that the actual ancestors of man were monkeys and apes. It merely meant that all of these modern forms had a common ancestor.

The lecture was the first of a series to be given in co-operation with the McGill extension courses.

DAD'S DAY

University of N. H., Nov. 11.—(By Exchange Service)—More than 600 fathers attended the University of Hampshire's second annual Dad's Day. The ready response of the parents to the invitations issued indicate that Mother's Day in the spring will also become an annual institution. Opportunities were given the fathers to see their sons in all phases of collegiate activity and later to meet all the members of the faculty.

Gowns for Seniors

In an attempt to find a way of distinguishing Seniors the students of Western Ontario University are discussing the merits of gowns for Seniors. Besides helping freshmen to distinguish these worthies from others they will be useful to the wearers, since they may serve as umbrellas, sweaters or pen-wipers when need arise.

Canadian College Songs

Winnipeg, November 12.—(By Ex-change Service)—The University of Manitoba Glee Club purpose to publish a song book of Canadian college songs at a future date. In order to secure songs the club will hold a competition through the medium of the Manitoban.

CAMBRIDGE WILL OPPOSE MCGILL IN DEBATE

the editor of the Granta, the leading university publication in Europe. The McGill representatives will be F. R. Scott, Errol Amaron, and Bernard Alexander. Errol Amaron, B.A. has been twice president of the Students' Council and of the Students' Association. Besides his interest in debating, he is also very active in athletics, having been president of the Track Club, and captain of the soccer team.

F. R. Scott, B.A., Oxford, was a Rhodes Scholar from Bishop's College. He is at present in the faculty of Law, and is prominent in connection with the Fortnightly Review. Bernard Alexander is a student in the faculty of Arts, with a distinguished career as leader of one of the parties in the Mock Parliament.

This type of debate with an English Team is fast becoming an annual custom at McGill, and it is thought that arrangements will be concluded to send a McGill team to England next fall on a tour to some of the famous universities over there. This would be an innovation which would be looked forward to by all undergraduates.

ONE ACT PLAYS

Winnipeg, November 12.—(By Ex-change Service)—Friday, November 19th, is the date selected by the University of Manitoba. Dramatic Society for its fall presentation of faculty one-act plays. These will be staged, as they were last year, at the Agricultural College, which has an auditorium suited to such performances. Arrangements have already been completed to make this evening an even greater success than it was last year, a true University function.
